Many Democrats Endorsed by Reproductive Rights Group Won Primaries

Planned Parenthood Votes NM endorsed 61 candidates

By Susan Dunlap,
NM Political Report

With nearly 53% of the precincts reporting as of 11 p.m. Tuesday, most of the legislative candidates endorsed by Planned Parenthood Votes New Mexico appear to have won.

With former President Donald Trump making another bid for the White House, two new U.S. Supreme Court decisions pending that could curtail abortion rights even further and now fears that conservatives will try to ban in-vitro fertilization treatments and contraception, abortion rights are on the ballot again this year, including in New Mexico legislative races.

Planned Parenthood Votes New Mexico, the political arm of Planned Parenthood, endorsed 61 candidates running for legislative office in New Mexico, stating that all 61 support abortion care, reproductive health and gender-affirming care.

Not all of PPVNM endorsements were candidates who faced primary opponents. Of the 61, only 19 did.

Block, Nava and Trujillo Advance to November Election

County clerk said it was a busy day

By Sandoval Signpost staff

Sandoval County had two highly sought-after state Senate seats.

District 12

Senate District 12 was recently redistricted to cover parts of the Westside of Albuquerque and Rio Rancho. With Sen. Gerald Ortiz y Pino (D-Albuquerque) deciding not to run after 20 years of service, three candidates ran for the position.

Republican Sandoval County Commissioner Jay Block will face Democrat Phillip Ramirez in the general election in November, after Block beat his opponent Candace Gould in the primary by 32 percentage points as of press time, according to unofficial election results on the secretary of state's website.

According to the Associated Press, Block voted twice as a commissioner in 2022 against certifying local election results while stoking doubts about election integrity.

District 9

In District 9, Audrey Trujillo of Corrales won the GOP nomination for an open seat after running unsuccessfully for secretary of state in 2022. She has cheered Trump's efforts to reverse the will of voters in 2020. Trujillo bested Frida Susana Vasquez of Rio Rancho with 58% of the vote in the district stretching from Rio Rancho to Algodones, including portions of Sandia Pueblo.

Democrats had to choose between

Heather Balas of Corrales and Cindy Nava of Bernalillo. Nava won the Democratic nomination over Balas with 55% of the vote.

Busy polling sites and a power outage

Sandoval County Clerk Anne Brady-Romero said the election was very busy but noted that one issue arose, which was promptly addressed.

"Bernalillo High School lost power but we deployed generators over there," Brady-Romero said. "There were no hiccups as far as I know... we are here to do a job and we do it well."

The Sandoval County Commission will canvas the election on Friday, June 14.

'It's About Recognizing the Community We Get to Live In'

Placitas Appreciation Day returns to warm reception

By Sandoval Signpost staff

After a yearslong hiatus, the Village of Placitas business community rallied to bring back Placitas Appreciation Day.

The Placitas Chamber of Commerce has been the driving force behind the community event for the past two decades, and then the COVID pandemic hit, effectively shutting it down.

"After taking a break for a few years, we wanted to re-envision what Appreciation Day would be," said Ruth Bouldes, an event organizer and member of the chamber. "We are a small chamber and community and this event helps bring us all together. We need to show each other support."

By all measures, the organizers feel like the event, held at the Homestead Village Shopping Center on June 1, was a success.

At least 13 businesses and organizations participated in the event, which drew over 350 people throughout the day. Bouldes says the chamber is now trying to reach out to the homeowners associations in the community to get them involved.

"There are so many of them here in Placitas, as our community grows," she said. "I think with their help, we can get the word out about our little chamber and help the business community here grow."

Volunteers from the animal rescue Watermelon Mountain Ranch washed dozens of pets, while the Sandoval County Fire and Rescue Department was on hand to give demonstrations to families. Several classic car enthusiasts filled the parking lot to show off their rides.

The Placitas Chamber of Commerce isn't affiliated with the national chamber. It exists solely on community support.

Driving Growth

Christina Jones Takes on Bernalillo’s Economic Development

By Jesse Jones, Sandoval Signpost

Bernalillo’s new director of economic and community development says she hopes to revitalize the town and its Main Street. Christina Jones was appointed as the town’s economic development officer in February, succeeding Mike Kloeppe, who served in the position for seven years before becoming the town’s recreation director.

Originally from Albuquerque, Jones has lived in Sandoval County for 18 years. She spent seven years planning events with the Sandoval County Economic Development and Tourism Department and three years working in the Assessor’s Office.

“I’ve seen (Bernalillo) grow and I just love the small-town community feeling,” Jones said. “The town has kind of embraced me, I think they kind of knew I was working with the county and the visitor center and stuff like that.”

She earned her Bachelor of Arts in architectural interior design, with a minor in graphics and photography, from the now-closed

Southwest University of Visual Arts in Albuquerque. As the director of economic and community development, Jones works with local businesses to identify strategies for growth and expansion within the town. She also directs efforts to boost tourism by organizing community events and collaborating with the museum and the library to attract visitors and encourage local involvement.

Celebrating Route 66

One of the major events Jones is currently organizing for the town is a Route 66 centennial project for 2026 called “Cross Culture.” This project is part of a national campaign celebrating the 100th anniversary of the legendary highway, which spans eight states and covers 2,448 miles.

“Cross Culture” will be a seven-day exhibit that will focus on the art and fashion history of America’s Mother Road, showcasing the cultural influences and styles that have defined Route 66 over the years.

centennial in two years include cleaning up the highway, which is now Highway 313 or Camino Del Pueblo. Plans also feature an exhibit at the museum, programming at the library, and various events at El Zócalo Event Center.

Part of Jones’ larger vision for the town’s revitalization is to take advantage of the town’s artistic and cultural heritage to drive community engagement and growth.

“I think that bringing Main Street back to the town would help and doing some sort of art and culture district, the town seems to thrive on art and culture in the area,” Jones said. “So I think that bringing that back to the town is my goal.”

Jones also hopes to include youth art projects, such as youth-designed murals throughout the town.

With only three months under her belt in her new role, Jones is already gearing up for a summer packed with exciting events like the annual brew fest and the town’s community yard sale.

Tan Pants Bandit Gets a Makeover

Alleged bank robber changes outfit

By Michael Hodock, Sandoval Signpost

A suspect that the FBI has nicknamed the “Tan Pants Bandit” may need a new moniker now that he is wanted in connection with yet another Rio Rancho bank robbery. During this robbery, the suspect was wearing gray skinny jeans.

The suspect may be using different disguises. According to an FBI press release, the suspect is now accused of robbing the Washington Federal Bank at 2518 Southern Blvd SE in Rio Rancho at approximately 4:30 p.m. May 3. In addition to gray skinny jeans, the suspect wore a blue hat, a black face mask, a black long-sleeve shirt and glasses.

Most recently, the suspect was accused of robbing the Bank of Albuquerque at 6600 Fourth St. in Los Ranchos on May 23. He is described as a white male, 5’7” with a stocky build. Besides his signature tan pants, he wore a black button-up shirt, a black baseball cap with a white emblem on the front, a black face mask, black and white Nike sneakers and glasses during his most recent robbery.

The FBI says that during the May 23 robbery, the suspect demanded money and the teller handed it over. Photos from the press release show the “Tan Pants Bandit” holding a piece of paper in front of the teller but the pictures do not appear to show him brandishing a weapon. The release said the suspect fled westbound on Nora Vista Road toward Fourth Street. His vehicle was described as a white sedan, likely a 2016 Buick Verano.

The “Tan Pants Bandit” is wanted in the following robberies:

- First Financial Credit Union of Rio Rancho at 2201 Rio Rancho Blvd. SE at approximately 5:15 p.m. March 4.
- Rio Grande Credit Union of Rio Rancho at 1526 Unser Blvd. SE at approximately 4:45 p.m. April 1.
- Washington Federal Bank at 2518 Southern Blvd. SE in Rio Rancho at approximately 4:25 p.m. May 3.

Tan Pants Bandit. (Source: FBI)

- Bank of Albuquerque at 6600 4th St. NW in Los Ranchos De Albuquerque at approximately 5:00 p.m. May 23.

The FBI is offering a $2,000 reward for information leading to an arrest. Anyone with possible info should call 505-889-1300.

Sandia Pueblo Gets a New Fire Station

New station will be a partnership with Bernalillo County Fire

By Tierna Unruh-Enos, Sandoval Signpost

It’s been a long time coming, but U.S. Rep. Melanie Stansbury and the Pueblo of Sandia Tribal Council finally unveiled Sandia Pueblo’s first Fire and Emergency Medical Services station on May 30.

The pueblo does not have the internal capacity to provide Fire and Emergency Medical Services. Before the opening of this new facility, the pueblo relied on faraway agencies for emergency help.

This need for their own equipment was highlighted when numerous departments battled a large fire in the Rio Grande Bosque some years ago. While the pueblo is mostly in Sandoval County and has agreements with its agencies, distance and unpredictable traffic can be wildcards for response times.

Since it relied on these three disparate agencies, the pueblo could not regulate the quality of service needed.

Sandoval County Station 43 is located on the Interstate 25 frontage road in Placitas, and from there it is seven miles to Sandia village through Bernalillo but 15 miles via I-25 and state highways. The distances are similar for Station 21 west of the Rio Grande on Santa Ana Pueblo near U.S. Highway 550, the six-lane thoroughfare through Bernalillo.

With Sandia Resort and Casino barely inside Bernalillo County, about 90% of emergency calls are medical.

“The partnership we have with them for fire and EMS is impeccable,” Sandia Gov. Stuart Paisano told the Signpost last year. “Getting across the river is usually what is the challenge.

Stansbury earmarked nearly $1.6 million for the project. The fire/EMS station is approximately 11,000 square feet. The pueblo entered a five-year MOU with the Bernalillo County Fire Department, which will staff and run the facility for the next five years. Any other equipment needed, the Bernalillo County Fire Department will supply.

Las Placitas Association Monthly Report

By Joan Fenicle,
Las Placitas Association

Much to celebrate: It's a year to celebrate conservation stewardship – 100 years for Aldo Leopold, 50 years for Las Placitas Association – and Monday, May 7, we celebrated the signing of the Placitas Withdrawal with Sen. Martin Heinrich, dignitaries from Santa Ana and San Felipe pueblos, the San Antonio de Las Huertas Land Grant, many of our elected and appointed public officials and many of you. It's been years in the making – more than 20 for those dedicated to protecting Placitas from expanded gravel mining on our doorstep.

Much to consider: Now the work begins to decide how the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) lands in Placitas will be used. The assumption is that BLM will open the Buffalo Tract to recreation, but what does that mean? Hiking trails ... biking trails ... off-road vehicles ... shooting??? LPA is evaluating any role it may play, in partnership with the BLM, to reach a community consensus on the use of these public lands for the benefit of Placitas and our neighboring communities. Like most things, it's complicated since the BLM can accept, modify or reject any proposed land use plan.

June Hike: Our hike specialist, David Haigh, has selected the Borrego, Windsor and Bear Wallow Trail Loop. This is on the way to the Santa Fe ski area and will be cooler with significant shade. Rated as moderately challenging, the length is 3.96 miles with an elevation gain of 850 feet; the average grade is 9%. Allow 2-3 hours to complete. The trail is multi-use - shared between hikers and bikers. Highlights include a mountain stream, dense forest, wildflowers and more. Trekking poles are recommended.

Meet in the west side of the Merc parking lot on NM-165 at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, June 29.

Sacred Places: Honoring Chacoan Culture. LPA sponsored an artists' adventure in Chaco Canyon in late 2023 that will culminate in an exhibit at Placitas Community Library in July 2024. The exhibition will feature works inspired by that trip and is open to artists similarly inspired. While Chacoan Culture was centered within the canyon, Chacoan influence extended much farther, through the San Juan Basin and beyond. We encourage you to explore the outliers as well and submit your work for this exhibit. The call for art is now available at placitaslibrary.com/programs/art-exhibits/call-for-artists

KUPR – Your Community

Radio: This year, live music events were held before summer heat and intense competition for bands and venues. A St. Patrick's Day event with traditional Irish music and food at Placitas Winery was a huge success, followed by an amazing performance by Red Hot and Red in April. This all-Native American jazz trio brought a whole new meaning to the word professional with drummer Louie Speaking Eagle (a Zacatec Indian ceremonial leader), bassist Rob "Milo" Jaramillo from Isleta Pueblo and master pianist Steve Figueroa of Laguna Pueblo. The event was recorded and is being aired from time to time on KUPR. A house concert in May featured Terry Winchell & The Fine Line, under the stars with singer/songwriter/guitarist Terry Winchell, guitarist/vocalist Jim Goodkind and bassist/vocalist Jay Leutwyler. Save the date - Saturday, October 26, for our annual Gathering of Spirits – it's a hoot! Over the summer the station will deal with an upgrade to fiber optics to improve your listening experience.

The Most Inconsequential of Felony Convictions

Fifty years ago, President Richard Nixon, facing three articles of impeachment over the Watergate break-in and wiretapping scandal, resigned from office. Pardoned just a month later, Nixon would spend the rest of his years in quiet retirement, always tainted by Watergate.

Thirty years ago, a special counsel was appointed to review President Bill Clinton's involvement in the failed Whitewater real estate project; scandals for Clinton snowballed from there, as Paula Jones and Monica Lewinsky came into the public eye for their alleged affairs with the President. Clinton remained defiant and successfully withstood a Senate impeachment trial. He went on to set up a multi-billion-dollar charitable foundation, and former First Lady Hillary Clinton went on to become a U.S. Senator, Secretary of State, and the 2016 Democratic presidential nominee.

In the current era, Donald Trump, a Democrat until 2009, burst onto the political scene in 2015 as a dark horse and quickly eliminated his Republican primary competitors, clinching the 2016 GOP nomination

Commentary

Merritt Hamilton Allen

despite bombastic rhetoric where he mocked the handicapped, weathered the emergence of previous wildly inappropriate remarks about women, and made many other provocative statements that either delighted or horrified voters. He won the election handily with 304 electoral votes but lost the popular vote by nearly 3 million votes.

On May 30, 2024, former President Trump was convicted by a Manhattan jury of 34 charges to illegally influence the 2016 election by paying $130,000 in hush money to silence a porn actress who said they had sex.

There is nothing in the Constitution preventing a convicted felon from running for President. The legacies of Nixon and Clinton and hyperpolarization of politics have made voters increasingly numb to Presidents behaving badly.

As with all things Trump, the Manhattan verdict is generating a lot of emotion on both sides. No one is denying the hush money payment was made, particularly as former Trump lawyer Michael Cohen was charged in 2018 for making the payment for the campaign, reached a plea deal, and served time.

At this point, days after the verdict, several things seem obvious. First, Trump will not see prison time for some time, if at all. While it is technically on the table, Trump has no prior offenses, and the judge already opted to merely fine Trump for his inappropriate behavior during the trial, where regular citizens acting similarly would have been jailed. And of course, this verdict will be tied up for years in appeals. It's even possible the appeals process could outlive the defendant.

Second, the verdict will have a minimal impact on the election. As I wrote last week, the Americans who will decide the 2024 election – those voting in swing states – appear to be voting with their wallets, not over policy or ethics.

The verdict has become the GOP's newest litmus test, and that is a shame. Former Maryland governor Larry Hogan, now running for the Senate, posted on X about "respect for the rule of law." A Trump campaign staffer responded, "You just ended your campaign."

With nothing else to offer voters but Trump – no real platform or issues – the Republican Party is hamstringing itself yet again when it comes to gaining more GOP registrants or new Congressional seats. The Republican House had the opportunity to orchestrate a win with the GOP Senate on border security earlier this year; instead they opted to leave it to Trump.

In the meantime, the White House is expected to issue this week an executive order effectively sealing the border to asylum seekers when daily border traffic reaches 2,500 (basically meaning immediately). The Trump gamble for key legislation isn't a winner for GOP legislators (it may not be a winner for President Biden who still has abysmal approval ratings over the economy and immigration).

Finally, the New York verdict all but guarantees across-the-board legal retaliation from Republicans. The GOP coined the term "lawfare" and it will be willing to wage it in return, beginning with Donald Trump in a second term in the White House.

I am not a lawyer, and I am not going to spend column space parsing whether the Manhattan district attorney was correct in determining that pursuing the felony prosecution was appropriate. I will instead note that Alvin Bragg campaigned for his job on the assertion that he was the right attorney to prosecute Donald Trump.

"SHE SAVED MY LIFE"

Albuquerque resident Dawn R. had been experiencing the painful side effects of Peripheral Neuropathy.

"My feet and legs were extremely painful and my doctor told me there was nothing they could do.

That I would have to take Gabapentin for the rest of my life."

Then she met Albuquerque's very own Dr. Andrea Brogdon

Peripheral Neuropathy is the pain, discomfort and numbness caused by nerve damage of the peripheral nervous system. Dawn explained that daily tasks like opening doors and using the bathroom were overwhelmingly painful. "How can you live for the next 30 years when you don't even want to get out of bed to do simple things?"

She was experiencing the burning, numbness, tingling and sharp pains that those suffering with neuropathy often describe. "The way that I would describe it, it's equivalent to walking on glass." Dawn hadn't worn socks in five years and was wearing shoes two sizes too big so that nothing would 'touch' her feet.

Unfortunately Dawn's story is all too familiar for over 3 million people in the U.S. suffering from Peripheral Neuropathy.

If you're unfortunate enough to be facing the same disheartening prognosis you're not sleeping at night because of the burning in your feet. You have difficulty walking, shopping or doing any activity for more than 30 minutes because of the pain. You're struggling with balance and living in fear that you might fall. Your doctor told you to 'just live with the pain' and you're taking medications that aren't working or have uncomfortable side effects.

Fortunately, four months ago Dawn read an article about Dr. Andrea Brogdon and the work she was doing to treat those suffering from Peripheral Neuropathy, without invasive surgeries or medications.

Dr. Brogdon, founder of AAIM | Albuquerque Acupuncture & Integrative Medicine, is using the tested science of acupuncture and a technology originally developed by NASA that assists in increasing blood flow and expediting recovery and healing to treat this debilitating disease.

"Now when I go to bed at night I don't have those shooting pains. I don't have that burning sensation. I don't have pain coming up my legs," Dawn enthusiastically describes life after receiving Dr. Brogdon's treatments.

"I can wear socks and shoes!"

Dawn and her sister now operate a successful dog walking business, sometimes covering up to 5 miles a day.

"It's life altering. As far as I'm concerned Dr. Brogdon saved my life!"

Dr. Brogdon is helping the senior community using the most cutting edge and innovative integrative medicine. Specializing in chronic pain cases, specifically those that have been deemed 'hopeless' or 'untreatable', she consistently generates unparalleled results.

What was once a missing link in senior healthcare is now easily accessible to the residents of Albuquerque.

If you've missed too many tee times because of pain or you've passed on dancing because you're afraid of falling, it's time to call Dr. Brogdon and the staff at AAIM.

It's time you let your golden years BE GOLDEN!

Dr. Brogdon is now accepting new patients but only for a limited time. In an effort to protect her patients, both current and future, she has made the difficult decision to limit the number of patients seen in her clinic. Only 10 new neuropathy patients will be accepted before the end of June so call (505) 355-1984 now to schedule a consultation.
